Teaching Excellence Framework: Year two

Statement of findings

London Metropolitan University

UKPRN: 10004048

TEF Bronze

This award was made in June 2017 and is valid for up to three years.

The TEF Panel reviewed the provider metrics and provider submission according to the process and criteria specified in the TEF guidance.

Based on the review of the University metrics and the provider submission, and following the process outlined in the specification, the Teaching Excellence Framework (TEF) Panel judges provision at London Metropolitan University best fits the descriptor of Bronze.

The University metrics, supplemented by the submission, indicate that students' achievement is notably below benchmark across a range of indicators. There are notable differences in progression to highly skilled employment for different student groups. Students continue with their studies at levels below the University's benchmark. The Panel deemed this was partially addressed by the provider submission.

The Panel considered all the information in the provider submission in relation to the TEF criteria and its judgement reflects, in particular, evidence of:

- a range of positive and appropriate strategic approaches being implemented to address student satisfaction and outcomes
- course design, which is informed by employers and offers employment-related assessment, that ensures most students acquire knowledge, skills and understanding that are valued by employers
- an embedded approach to student engagement with some elements of good practice
- a culture which facilitates and rewards teaching through a peer review process and annual learning and teaching awards
- investment in the physical and digital resources used by students to further learning.

Overall, the TEF Panel judged that the combination of evidence in the provider metrics and the provider submission best fits the descriptor for a Bronze award.
