TEF Year Three: Additional data on part-time provision

Information must be quantitative. It should, where possible, attempt to place the data in the context of national comparators. For further information, please see paragraphs 92 to 95 of the TEF Year Three procedural guidance (www.hefce.ac.uk/pubs/Year/2017/201725/).

The submission must meet the format requirements set out in the guidance (paragraphs 86 to 90). This template meets the submission format requirements. It includes suggested headings but these are not compulsory.

Continuation

Learners stay on programme during their course with a retention rate averaging over 90% with the withdrawals happening early on in the programme. Pass rates are above 98% which means the overall Achievment Rates are around the 90% mark which is well above the National Average of 81%.

	Starts	Retained	Retention %	Passed	Pass %	Achieved %	National Achievement %
14/15	92	89	90.2	56	100.0	91.8	81.2
15/16	67	63	94.0	61	98.4	91.0	81.2
16/17	78	70	89.7	66	98.5	84.6	81.2

Highly skilled employment and further study

The majority of our part time HE learners are already employed in highly skilled engineering firms such as BAE with either the employer paying the fees for the learners or the employers entering into a contract with the college to deliver an HE programme to a number of employees. Learners on the HNC or Foundation Degree progress to top up to an HND or BA Degree after successful completion.
